Hello [REDACTED]

I am reaching out to provide you with an update and to remind you that I am available to discuss academic support measures or resources anytime. If you would like to meet in person or via Zoom to discuss any questions, resources or supportive measures to help you focus on completing your academic coursework this semester, please let me know.

As you are aware, the appellate hearing officers are holding deliberations to review the appeal today Thursday November 16, 2023. We anticipate receiving the outcome by Tuesday December 5, 2023, if no additional deliberations dates are scheduled. In the meantime, please focus on finishing your courses and let me know if you need assistance with academic support. Please know that if the outcome indicates there is a finding of a policy violation and the sanction is upheld, we will work with you to ensure that you are able to finish your classes this semester.

Another person that is available to assist you is Dr. Andrea Goodwin. She is the Dean of Students and I have included her on this email so that you are easily able to contact her for any support or help that you need. She is available to support you should you need to discuss options for transitioning if sanctions are upheld. Here is Dean Goodwin's contact information:

Andrea J. Goodwin, Ph.D. (she/her/hers)

Should you have any concerns about safety or need medical assistance, please contact 911 immediately. In addition, the UMD's Counseling Center if you are ever in a crisis and need immediate and confidential support from a licensed counselor. Please know that we are available to assist you, so please do not hesitate to reach out for assistance.

Sincerely,
